elegantes, delicias
para el paladar.

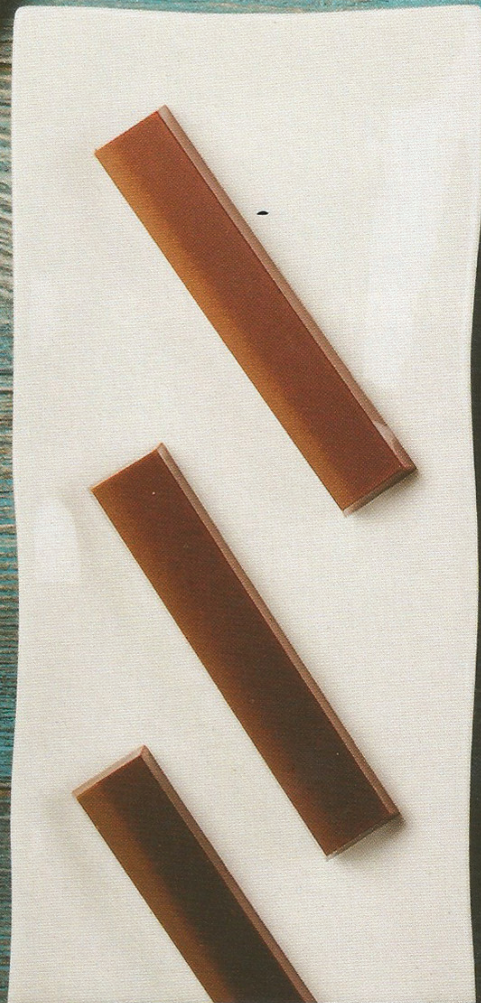

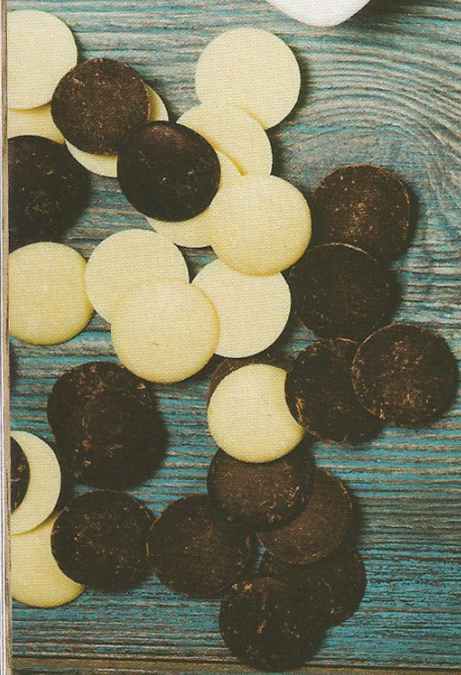

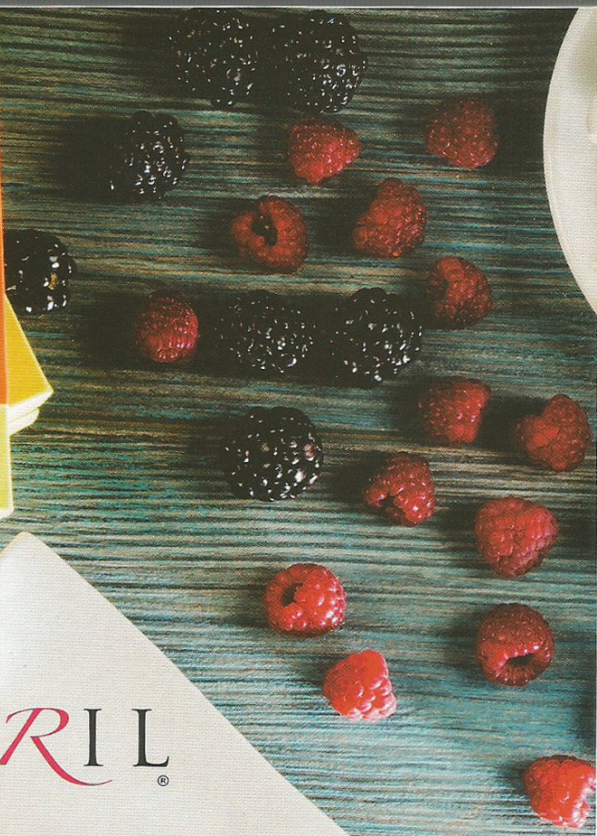

A close-up photograph of a variety of breads. In the foreground, there are several golden-brown croissants with a flaky texture. To the right, there are slices of a dark, seeded bread. In the center, a large, rustic loaf with a thick, dark crust and a white flour coating is prominent. Other breads, including a baguette and a round loaf, are visible in the background. The breads are arranged on a light-colored surface, possibly a wooden table or a white cloth.
